"HOME RULE" RENT CONTROL BILL ADOPTED

Administration Forces Pin Hopes For Stronger Measure When It Comes Up In Senate

ALTER MANY SECTIONS

Washington, March 16—(P)—The house-passed plan for "local option" rent control got a cool reception today from senators who are directing senate work on a new rent law.

This "home rule" plan would allow any state, county or town to set up its own controls or drop them entirely.

Over administration objections, the house added it yesterday to its bill to continue rent controls for 15 months after March 31. Then the house passed the bill.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.), chairman of a senate banking committee tussling with rent controls, told reporters that local option "seems to me to pretty well gut the bill." And Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the full banking committee said he thought it would result in confusion and pandemonium.

It already is obvious that any new law will be considerably short of what President Truman asked. He asked for a 4-month extension of strong federal controls plus several provisions—which the house would not approve—to strengthen the hand of Housing Expediter Tamm.

Besides the "home rule" provision, the measure passed by the house on a 261 to 153 vote has some other sections not in the original administration proposal.

One of these would allow Woods to recontrol rental areas on which controls previously had been lifted. The house okayed that after Woods promised to lift controls on 100 rural areas if he got power to put them back on in case unusual rent boosts resulted.

He also received authority to sue landlords for triple damages for rent overcharges—something only tenants can do now.

But Woods was refused power to (A) bring criminal action against landlords violating controls, and (B) recontrol apartments in residential hotels.

As for the local option amendment, Woods took an optimistic view.

"I would be willing to bet," he said, "that 90 per cent of the 1,000 counties where we have rent control will not lift rent control under this amendment."

But Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the house banking committee, who sponsored the bill on the floor, turned to Page Twelve.

Tallulah Doesn't Like Soap Jingle

New York, March 16—(P)—Tallulah Bankhead, inked by the use of the name "Tallulah" on a radio jingle advertising soap, is suing for $1,000,000 damages.

The fiery actress also is asking an injunction against Proctor & Gamble Company, makers of the soap; the National Broadcasting System and an advertising agency.

Miss Bankhead, currently appearing in Broadway in "Private Lives," commented last night:

"I've yet to endorse a floor wax, a flea powder or a wart remover, a cigarette or a hookah-pipe. I'll jingle both Mr. Proctor and Mr. Gamble, their aides, their allies and their echoes."

Her attorney, Donald R. Seawell, said the singing radio commercial, which refers to a tube of shampoo as "Tallulah," uses the actress' name in an "offensive and humiliating" manner.

Miss Bankhead's first name is so unusual, he said, that the use of it alone identifies her "in the public mind."

Walter Barry, attorney who said he will represent the defendants, said there was "intended" use of the agency or sponsor to capitalize on any living person's name."

Pyramid Club Fever Spreads In Philly Like A Gold Strike

Philadelphia, March 16—(P)—The pyramid club fever that hit Philadelphia like a gold strike apparently is dying a slow but certain death today.

Fewer and fewer persons are digging into their pockets for the one dollar "membership fee" which many hoped would come back in the form of a $2,048 pay-off.

The pyramid club craze hit Philadelphia about two weeks ago and in a matter of hours tall tales of big winnings spread like wildfire.

Police authorities estimated that as many as 100 clubs were in operation, some with several thousand members. Actual payoffs have been verified but the total amount can only be a matter of speculation.

One fact is certain, police say, and that is only a handful of persons received any return from their "investment."

Belief that the craze is dying out is based, police say, on the

Hotly-Contested Tax Program Adopted By Assembly After Battle Lasting Five Weeks

Harrisburg, March 16—(P)—A $428,000,000 tax program reached Gov. James H. Duff today after surmounting every roadblock its foes could devise.

The state senate in a three-hour night session passed by resounding majorities hotly-fought bills to increase the state's gasoline tax one cent a gallon to five cents on May 31 and to continue the controversial soft drink levy two more years.

Both bills passed 36-14 with two Democrats voting for, and one Republican—Sen. George N. Wade, of Cumberland county opposing both measures.

Predict Mine Stoppage Will End March 28

Philadelphia, March 16—(P)—The chairman of the Anthracite Operators Conference declared today that hard coal workers are "breaking their contract" in obeying John L. Lewis' two-week stoppage order.

The United Mine Workers chieftain called the statement "untrue." Ralph E. Taggart, president of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, released the text of telegrams exchanged between Lewis and himself in which Taggart said: "The present work stoppage is in clear violation of our agreement with the United Mine Workers of America, and on behalf of the anthracite operators signatories to the agreement, I demand that your stop work order be immediately rescinded."

Pittsburgh, March 16—(P)—A district leader of the United Mine Workers said today he sees no reason why the coal mine work stoppage won't end as scheduled on March 28.

Some operators have expressed fear the two-week shutdown ordered by John L. Lewis for miners east of the Mississippi would continue past the deadline established by the fiery UMW president.

Commenting on those fears, John E. Bussard, president of District No. 5, UMW, at Pittsburgh, said dryly:

Truman Maintains Silence In Face Of Continuous Setbacks

Key West, Fla., March 16—(P)—President Truman maintained a tight-lipped silence today in the face of continuous setbacks from the 81st congress.

The man who travelled 31,500 miles last year to denounce the 80th congress as the "second worst" in history because of its opposition to his proposals withheld a final decision on whether to stomp the county to win a better showing from its Democratic-controlled successor.

The tabling by the senate armed services committee of the confirmation necessary for former Gov. Mon C. Wallgren as chairman of the National Security Resources Board was a heavy blow to Mr. Truman, who regards the ex-chief executive of Washington state as one of his best friends.

This action yesterday piled up the score Mr. Truman would like to settle with the current congress, dominated by Democrats, but many of the southerners who launched a filibuster to prevent passage of the president's civil rights measures.

Mr. Truman is returning to Washington to attend the annual dinner of the White House Photographers Association Saturday night.

Photographers were embarrassed Monday when they returned from a Navy flight over Mr. Truman's temporary White House and nearby beach to confront a request from Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross that the pictures be withheld from publication. Ross said the president's privacy had been invaded and that the chief executive's personal security was also involved.

The president had friendly exchanges with the photographers yesterday when former Secretary of State Marshall flew here from Miami for lunch.

Washington, March 16—(P)—Nicholas Antico, 37, today took the witness stand to tell his version of the shooting of an elderly "ragpicker" he thought had molested his daughter.

The navy veteran, being tried on a charge of murder, said his estranged wife told him Betty, 5, had been "kissed" by the victim of the shooting, William Moore, 73.

It was then, Antico said, that he walked to the Sharpshooter police station where Moore was lodged in jail, on a charge of molesting the child.

Antico is charged with walking into the cell room and pumping two bullets into the ragpicker's body.

Dorothy Antico, 30, an older daughter, testified that the day before the shooting she noticed Betty chewing gum and asked her where she got it.

She said Betty replied that Moore had kissed her and "slobbered" on her and had given her a penny.

Defendant Heard In Fatal Shooting

Pittsburgh, March 16—(P)—Nicholas Antico, 37, today took the witness stand to tell his version of the shooting of an elderly "ragpicker" he thought had molested his daughter.

The navy veteran, being tried on a charge of murder, said his estranged wife told him Betty, 5, had been "kissed" by the victim of the shooting, William Moore, 73.

Senate Moves Toward Showdown On A Modified Talk-Gagging Change In Rules

COMPROMIS OPPOSED AS INEFFECTIVE

Provision For Unlimited Debate When Motion Is Made To Change Rules Is Inserted

BITTER CONTROVERSY

Washington, March 16—(P)—Its long filibuster over and an alliance of Republicans and southern Democrats in control, the senate today moved toward a showdown on a modified talk-gagging change in its rules.

Before the chamber is a majorly-backed proposal—bitterly opposed as ineffectual—a minority made up of Truman Democrats to let the "yes" votes of 64 of 96 senators end debate on no business.

Republicans and southern Democrats who sponsored it wrote in this compromise a provision of unlimited debate whenever a motion is made to change the senate rules.

That's the kind of a motion-made February 28 by Democrat Leader Lucas of Illinois—which kept the senate knotted in a filibuster that came to a dramatic end at 11 o'clock last night.

At that hour, bipartisan circulators of the compromise announced they had the pledges of 5 members to support it, and, alone, the 52 included 30 Democrats and 22 Republicans.

At a signal, Senator Olin Johnson (D-SC) ended a four-hour 20 minute speech. He was the fourteenth Dixie lawmaker to ho the floor since the controversy began last month.

Johnson sat down.

The filibuster was over.

Senators were summoned by quorum call.

When they had straggled in some of them, sleepy-eyed, fro coats in nearby cloakrooms—Vice President Barkley called for a vote on the motion Lucas had made 1 days before.

The vote was 78 to 0 to take up a resolution offered by Senator Wherry of Nebraska that the GO floor leader, Senator Hiram (D-Ariz.), it proposes that two thirds of senators voting be permitted to gag debate at any time.

Local Tax Law Is Facing Amendments

Harrisburg, March 16—(P)—The senate local government committee gathered today to consider sweeping amendments to the controversial 1947 local tax law.

Sen. George B. Stevenson (R-Clinton), co-sponsor of a bill revising the existing authority granted municipalities two years ago, said the bill likely will receive committee approval.

"We want to get the measure out in the senate for a vote," he explained in advance of the meeting.

The bill would bar local taxes on natural resources, manufacturing and farm products and the earned income of non-residents of communities imposing wage taxes. It also would fix ceilings on amusement, mercantile, wage and similar taxes now permitted under the 1947 law.

Distraught Mother Pleads Tearfully For "Love Child"

Boston, March 16—(P)—A distraught mother pleaded tearfully today for the "love child" the state charges she kept captive a dozen years in a dungeon-like room.

"I don't want to give him up," cried Mrs. Ann F. Sullivan.

Police said 14-year-old bright-eyed Gerald Sullivan was held in a barren room, furnished only with a cot, until he escaped into the street in an unguarded moment Sunday night.

Mrs. Sullivan, suffering from what physicians described as a terrible emotional upset, denied in an interview that she kept the child locked up in the room. "She was too ill to attend a scheduled court hearing. It was postponed until Monday."

She explained that she kept him in the house to "hide my shame" and to "protect the good name" of her older legitimate sons and a younger daughter.

Mrs. Sullivan told her story as friends stood by the immaculately white bed to which she has been confined since her secret became public.

Weeping bitterly and burying her head occasionally in pillows, she sobbed:

"I didn't mean to do any harm to the little boy. I was not kind to him. I felt that it was our cross, mine and Gerald's, and we had to bear it together."

"I loved him inside, but how could I show it. It was such a torture, such a shame, such a disgrace. No one will ever know what I've suffered. And I will always go on suffering. It is to cross I must bear."

Answering police reports that the boy couldn't distinguish the things common to every child—even an orange because he had never seen them before, Mrs. Sullivan said:

"Every day he had fruit and the best of food we could afford. He liked to eat and I let him lack for nothing."

NEW EVIDENCE IN SPY CASE IS RUMORED

Former FBI Agent, Now a Congressman, Demands Reopening of Investigation

MYSTERY SCIENTIST

Washington, March 16—(P)—A former FBI agent, Rep. Velde (R-Ill.), demanded today that the house Un-American Activities committee reopen an investigation of "Scientist X" and a Russian "atomic spy ring."

The committee is understood to have new evidence.

Now a committee member, Velde was in the FBI's sabotage and counter-espionage division from 1943 to 1946.

During that period, he said, "A Russian espionage ring was uncovered which was perhaps the most treacherous known in history." He said Scientist X, identified only as a former University of California professor, was involved.

The committee looked into atomic spying in secret sessions last year. Velde was one of the witnesses. That was before he was elected to congress.

Later the committee issued a report listing atomic espionage and the Scientist X case as unfinished business.

Since then, the committee is reported to have discovered additional evidence, part of it relating to operations at the Los Alamos Atomic Project in New Mexico.

Velde told reporters the FBI's own inquiry dug up, in his opinion, enough evidence to permit "successful prosecution of a substantial number of spies, among them some well known American Communists."

The Un-American Activities committee brought Scientist X here for questioning. It never released his name; he denied all testimony against him.

As the committee told the story in its report, the scientist was in the radiation laboratory of the University of California at Berkeley. This laboratory handled work connected with the atomic bomb project.

The report said that late one night in March 1943, Scientist X went to the home of Steve Nelson and read him a complicated formula that Nelson copied. Nelson is an admitted Communist. The report called him a "Communist espionage agent" also.

It said several days later Nelson met Peter Ivanov, Russian agent, in San Francisco, in a park. It said he "transferred something" and the "information is irretrievable that it included the formula."

It said this formula was "of importance in the development of the atom bomb."

Shortly afterward, the report said, the third secretary of the Russian embassy in Washington, a man named Zubilin, came to San Francisco, visited Nelson's home and handed over 10 bills of unknown size.

Death Takes Three-Term Blind Senator

Washington, March 16—(P)—Thomas Pryor Gore, 78, three-term senator and successful lawyer though he had been blind since childhood, died at his home here today.

An Oklahoma Democrat, Gore was one of the first two senators sent to Washington from Oklahoma after the state entered the Union in 1907.

He served two terms, ending in 1921, and came back for a third ending Jan. 1, 1937.

The blind senator and his associates charged up his two election defeats to his refusal to compromise convictions.

Before he went out of office in 1921 he had been bitterly opposed to entry into the League of Nations and had resisted administration pressure for a change of stand. Earlier he had been one of the few against President Wilson's recommendation for a declaration of war in 1917.

When he failed to obtain renomination after his third term he attributed the defeat to his opposition to New Deal policies but said he felt satisfaction "that I did not sacrifice my principles."

Before and between his senatorial terms he practiced law in Oklahoma and here. Since he finally went out of the Senate he had practiced in Washington.

As lawyer and lawmaker he relied heavily on a prodigious memory. He never used the raised character print provided for reading by the blind.

Hundreds of Elk Members To Invade Warren Thursday For Reception To High Officials

Hundreds of members of Elk lodges in northwestern Pennsylvania as well as many delegations from other parts of the state and from southwestern New York will be in Warren Thursday evening to join in the reception to be tendered Grand Exalted Ruler G. I. Hall, of New York City. Reservations have been made for about 500 who will attend the banquet to be served in the State Armory at seven o'clock.

The grand exalted ruler and party will arrive early in the afternoon from Pittsburgh. Making the trip from the Smoky City by automobile, they will be met by members of the executive committee of the Elk club in this city for an official welcome before adjourning to the Carver Hotel for luncheon about one o'clock, the first of a number of busy round events that have been arranged for the distinguished visitor and other grand lodge and state association officers.

Following the luncheon Grand Exalted Ruler Hall has an appointment to broadcast a talk to school children of the borough and county from the studio of Warren Radio Station WNAE at 2:45 o'clock.

At six o'clock a reception will be held at the Elk club for the grand exalted ruler and other guests which will continue until seven when the visitors and local members will adjourn to the State Armory where the banquet in honor of Mr. Hall will be served. It is being prepared by the Lewis Catering service and will be served by the house committee of the Elk lodge. The interior of the Armory is being appropriately decorated for the occasion today.

Ruel H. Smith, exalted ruler, will extend greetings to the Elk officials and visitors; after which he will turn the program over to Lee A. Donaldson, Pittsburgh, state association president, who will preside as toastmaster. An official welcome will be extended by visitors by Burgess W. F. Crosssett.

Two Sugar Grove Men Killed By Carbon Monoxide Fumes; Services To Be Held Friday

Two young Sugar Grove men, one of them home on furlough from Japan, were accidentally killed by carbon monoxide fumes yesterday after the car in which they were riding became mired overnight along a little-traveled dirt road near Randolph, N. Y.

The victims were Rodney Clare Bickelstaff, 28, who arrived home only last Friday from overseas, and Kenneth Bement, 23.

Coroner George Middleton of Callanburg county, New York, said the pair apparently left the motor of the car running and went to sleep.

Wesley Haggatt, Steamburg farmer, discovered the tragedy about 8 o'clock yesterday morning, but a "localized" blizzard and virtually impassable roads delayed the investigation, and it was not until the middle of the afternoon that authorities were able to remove the bodies to an undertaking establishment in Randolph where identification was completed.

Bickelstaff and Bement are reported to have left Sugar Grove sometime Monday night in company with another Sugar Grove resident, Paul Muniz.

Deputy Sheriff Louis Shultz said Muniz escaped the same fate as his companions when he was put up for the night at the home of a friend, William McKillit, whom the trio had planned to visit.

Muniz told Deputy Shultz that Bement had inadvertently driven past McKillit's home, and then attempted to back down the dirt road when the car slid into a ditch.

Bickelstaff and Bement chose to remain in the car, Muniz said, after he told them McKillit had agreed to help them with his tractor after daylight.

The bodies were removed from Randolph to the Schoonover funeral home in Sugar Grove where military services will be held Friday afternoon.

Bickelstaff is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bickelstaff of Sugar Grove; four sisters, Mrs. June Cook of Andover, Ind., Dorine Taylor of Sugar Grove, Mrs. Betty Albright of R. D. Jamestown, and Jean Bickelstaff at home; a half-sister, Mrs. Dana Moon of Erie; a half-brother, Robert H. Bickelstaff of Enid, Okla.; his grandmothers, Sidney Bickelstaff of Springfield, N. Y., and his grandfather, Clare Phillips of Sugar Grove.

Funeral services will be held at the Schoonover funeral home Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Burial will be made in the Cherry Hill cemetery.

Tax Returns Far Below Estimates

Washington, March 16—(P)—The government may be $1,200,000,000 in the hole for the year ending June 30, officials said today, unless last minute tax returns bring in a whopping amount of money.

Only last January, President Truman estimated in his budget message that the federal deficit for fiscal 1949 would be just half that size.

Final figures will be uncertain until tax collectors have finished counting late-arriving income tax money—a job expected to take a couple of weeks or more.

But pending that, they said, the situation is as follows: Tax revenue is lagging more than had been expected in January. If this trend continues, collections will be about $600,000,000 below the spending figure.

The revenue estimates were based on a predicted 6.2 per cent drop below fiscal 1948 collections. But up to March 15, 1949, receipts were running eight per cent below the same period of last year.

Red Cross Campaign Fast Nearing Quota of $13,825

Warren County's Red Cross Campaign crested over the $13,000.00 mark when yesterday's cash and pledges of $1,225.50 brought the grand total to date up to $13,994.15. There is a good chance that the 10th day will see the total, which is $13,825.00, reached.

However the campaign goes today, it will continue until the total has been raised or passed. Warren county people have been noted for the way they support their Red Cross, and since there are many who have not yet sent in their contributions, it is hoped those who have not done so will make a contribution soon to this all-important campaign.

To clear up some misconceptions that have apparently existed, Red Cross Headquarters yesterday issued some pertinent facts regarding the campaign.

1. March is Red Cross month—the entire month of March.
2. It was not intended that Warren county's effort would be confined to the one week of March 7th.
3. Some 1360 persons, firms and places of business have sent in contributions or pledges.
4. Those who could not make a cash donation or pledge prior to March 15th or later may still do so.
5. Receipt cards, a Red Cross window sticker and lapel pin are mailed to each person making a pledge or gift as soon as his or her donation is received at headquarters.

So, those persons who have not yet made a contribution to the Red Cross may do so anytime during the remainder of the month. You are not too late. Your gift will be appreciated—and promptly acknowledged. Give to the Warren County Red Cross!

Optimist Club Show Is Big Hit In Matinee

Students at the high school and Beauty and the Beast... The matinee performance of "Headin' Hollywood" at the high school auditorium yesterday.

They are the products of the Earl Rager production which will be seen tonight and again tomorrow night in the interests of the Optimist Club.

Songs like "When the Sweet Magnolia Blooms in Carolina," "White Autumn Leaves Are Falling," "Carolina," "Headin' Hollywood," and "Beautiful Blonde," were all written by Mr. Rager.

The director stated after yesterday's performance that for the first time in the history of this show two curtain calls were needed. It is expected that many of those who saw the first performance will be present again tonight or tomorrow.

It is a show that appeals to everyone. Even the hillbilly band that finally brings the two lovers of the show together again, has the audience stamping and clapping for more.

Optimists and Mr. Rager should have a round of applause from the town for their foresight in arranging this talent show for Warren.

A testimonial dinner was given at the Carver Hotel last evening for Mr. and Mrs. Rager. They were feted prior to the final night's performance because of another show he must perform in New Jersey in three weeks. He starts work there on Sunday March 20.

Fire Damages Bottle Plant at Sheffield

Fire of undetermined origin started considerable damage at the Sheffield plant of the Pennsylvania Bottle Company this morning.

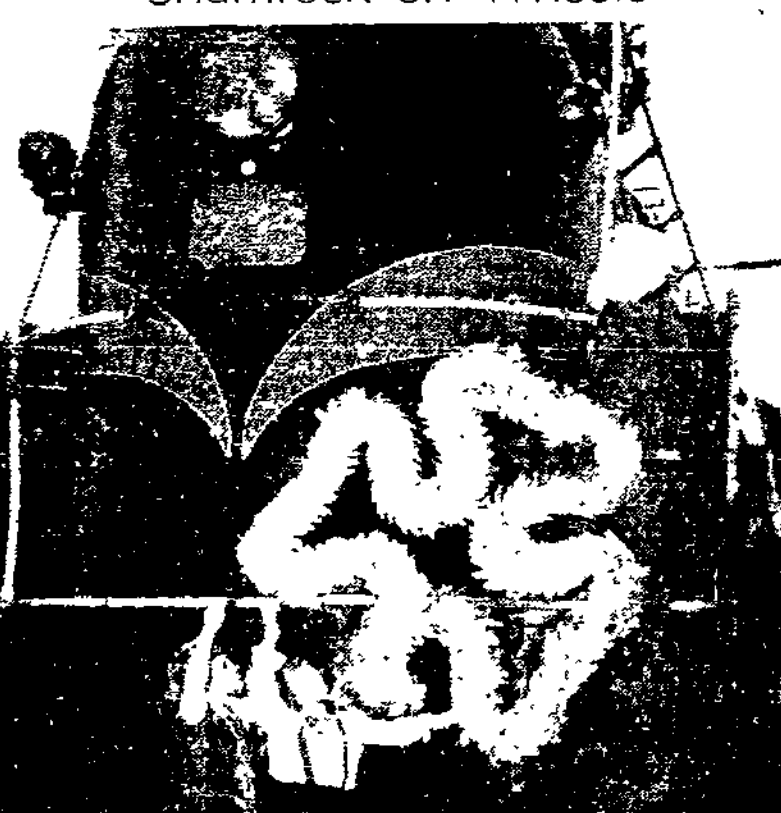

One o'clock. Officials of the fire department have not yet estimated the amount of the loss, but electric power for the stackers and lights around the furnace and considerable water damage to cartons was reported.

An examination of the building determined damage to steel girders and siding is yet to be made. Indications are that the furnace will be quite high when it burns.

The fire said officials started the air lines of the number two machine and ignited oil above the machine to climb at once to the top of the building.

The Sheffield Fire Department responded quickly and knocked the fire down. The fire was such that it could have meant the loss of the entire plant, and the department deserves considerable credit for their fine work.

The Lives and Loves of GIs in Italy—English Dialogue!

At the Columbia Theatre Starting Sunday

"Paisan", which opens Sunday at the Columbia, has an unusual angle to it. Although filmed in Italy and called by Italian film critics as the best Italian movie of 1947, most of the dialogue is in English and a large number of the leading roles are filled by Americans.

In separate episodes each connected by a central theme, "Paisan" shows the relationship, social and military, between American GIs and the Italians during the invasion of the "boot" and the occupation period. This is Roberto Rossellini's first production since he made the celebrated "Open City."

The entire picture was photographed on location. With the exception of six professionals, the cast consists of American, British and German soldiers, as well as adults and children from all parts of Italy.

Pais were considered an exotic delicacy reserved only for the rich and powerful. During the 15th century in Scotland, Parliament banned pie being by anybody below the rank of baron.

Aviation Club To Sponsor Air Show

Members of the Warren Aviation Club, meeting last night at the Warren airport, approved a plan to stage a big air show here July 3 in connection with Warren's four-day Fourth of July celebration.

Details of the show will be worked out at later meetings of the club.

Last night's program also included the screening of several movies, including the 1948 Cleveland Air Races, the Air Invasion of France Wings for an Angel and various comedies.

Nitric Acid is produced in stainless steel vats. Chemical engineers say the acid has no corrosive effect on this metal.

HOME SAVED

A fine antique purchased recently from the Columbus Fire Department was given credit today for the fact that a house serious blaze at the home of Thomas Kozik, 815 E. 1st St., on the corner of Route 6. The fire was discovered in the parlor around a stove with the flames spreading to some clothing and furniture before being brought under control. Damage was estimated at $300. Mr. Kozik turned the contents of the extinguisher on the fire and completed the job with buckets of water. The Columbus fire company responded to a call but was not needed. Mr. Kozik suffered burns about the face and was treated by a Corby physician.

High School Club Is Featured In Program For Radio

The Warren High School German Club, Der Gemutliche Verein or The Cozy Club, presented for Warren radio listeners an impressive German variety program on Tuesday afternoon over WTAZ.

In addition to writing the script, Herr Charles Hutchings handled the announcing, together with Herr James Johnson.

The program opened with the club's "Little German Band", under the maestro-ship of Herr Don Wood, playing the familiar and unforgettable refrain "Ach Du Lieber Augustin", which was followed by a composition entitled "California Polka".

The radio audience's attention was called to the fact that little does the public realize the derivation of many of its English words which have been taken from the German and the close similarity in spelling and meaning.

Further attention was drawn to the fact that honored in the Halls of Fame of the arts and sciences around the world are many Germans who have made names for themselves and have added immensely to our own culture, among some being Leopold and Walter Damrosch, Otto Mergenthaler, John Roebling, Henry Schill, Ernestine Schumann-Heyne and Charles Steinmetz.

The "Gentlemen of Note", known within the club circle as the "Weiner Schmitzel Four", consisting of Herren Dean Blair, Jim Johnson, Tim Muhlaupt, and Gordon Odmak, sang a favorite German number, "O Tannenbaum, O Tannenbaum".

For a selection taken from the wide range of German operettas, Herr Odmak sang the "Vilja Lied" from "The Merry Widow" by Franz Lehár.

In concluding their program, the "Little German Band" played the "Village Tavern Polka".

Moran Arraigned In Stabbing Case

Orsell Moran, 312 Chestnut street, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Tracy M. Greenlund yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, charged by city police with aggravated assault and battery.

Moran entered a plea of not guilty and waived hearing for Court. He was remanded to Warren county jail in default of bail of $1000.

The charge grew out of a stabbing affray near the Pennsylvania railroad early yesterday morning in which Moran is alleged to have plunged a hunting knife into the back of Giles Collins, 831 Fourth avenue, while Collins was engaged in a fight with another man.

Collins, the victim of the stabbing, was reported in fair condition at Warren General Hospital this morning, and it now appears he will recover from the deep wound. The knife missed vital organs although it was very near the heart.

The Cossacks, who had some degree of independence, supplied the mainstay of the town's economy in lieu of paying taxes.

St. Marys Rector Talks Here Tonight

The Rev. John F. Sponsler, vicar of St. Agnes church in St. Marys, will be the speaker at this evening's midweek Lenten service in Trinity Memorial church.

Fr. Sponsler has done an outstanding work since his arrival in the Erie Diocese last year. St. Agnes church was without a resident priest over a period of several years, until his arrival. Since taking charge he has built up a splendid congregation, a good church school, and has raised a sufficient amount of money to build a parish house. He is considered outstanding as a pastor and preacher.

Immediately after the service the Young Adult Group will meet in the parish house, where Dr. Samuel T. Robbins will again conduct a symposium on the "Christian Home."

In 1491, the Scottish Parliament provided penalties of a fine and imprisonment for anyone playing golf or allowing his land to be used for golf; parliament felt golfers were taking too much time from their required archery.

Chapter 2

TWO weeks later the newspapers carried a small item that went unnoticed by Rafferty and, in fact, by all but a few people in the university.

It stated briefly that Professor Jasper B. Hubbard, head of the Department of Biology, had died of coronary occlusion in his sleep.

Late in the afternoon, the day before he died, Hubbard had been closeted with his secretary in his inner office for over half an hour. The door was tightly closed. In spite of that, Hubbard's voice came through in a burst of unpleasant laughter. The low indistinct murmur of his secretary was broken by the sound of a fist banging on a desk.

The door opened and Hubbard's secretary walked out quickly, looking very white and very angry. She walked past the students without being aware they were there, and went straight to the door of an office down the long hall marked "D. C. Bray" and under this "Assoc. Prof."

She entered without knocking. Bray looked up from the book on his desk.

"What's wrong? Ellen? Something happen?"

Ellen Carter sank down into the chair opposite and put her head back and stared at the ceiling.

"He certainly is a rat," she finally said.

Bray looked at her and for a moment wished he were twenty years younger.

"Well," she began, "I think it must have been the dirty deal he handed Bill Griffith this afternoon that decided me. God! I don't see how he had the nerve to flunk Bill. Of all the rotten tricks—

Anyway, I went in there as courteous as you please and said very quietly but firmly that I was handing in my resignation."

"What did he say to that?"

"Well, he didn't say anything for a while. Just looked at me. After an awfully long time, he said, 'Miss Carter, just when did you reach this decision?'

Bray said, "What's wrong? Something happen?"

his office. All I told him was that I was terribly homesick and had decided to go back to Cedar Rapids."

"Homesick?" Bray raised his eyebrows and smiled quizzically. It was common knowledge around the department that Ellen's family consisted only of her father, an important politician in Iowa with no great affection for his daughter. The two didn't see eye to eye on any matter at all and it had been over three years since she had last received a letter from him.

"Did that make any impression on him?" Bray asked.

"No," said Ellen with a whimsical laugh, "but what could he say?"

"Well, what did he say?"

FIRST he said that if that were the only reason, he wondered if I wouldn't reconsider, as it was terribly inconvenient for him to try to get a new secretary now.

I told him I knew someone whom I could get to replace me."

"Fair enough. Then what?"

"All he did was laugh at first."

Then he said he was afraid that wouldn't do at all. He said he couldn't tell what sort of snooty wench she might turn out to be.

"Of course," said Bray acidly, "a too inquisitive person would definitely curtail some of his activities."

"Well," continued Ellen, "I told him that I was really very sorry, but that I was quite decided on leaving. And when! What a temper tantrum!"

Then he suddenly quieted down and said, 'I'm afraid, Miss Carter, you'll find it impossible not to stay on here.'

What did the chief have up his sleeve this time?" Bray asked.

"It seems," said Ellen with a bitter smile, "that a considerable amount of money from the petty cash box has been missing, and while Professor Hubbard was not accusing me directly, he indicated that I had access to the petty cash more easily than anyone else in the department. He pointed out that the newspapers, especially the Cedar Rapids paper, would misinterpret my resignation coming at the same time that the money was reported missing. Of course, he magnanimously offered to forget the whole thing if I stayed. Disgusting, isn't it?"

"Then you're staying, Ellen?"

"I am not!" Her green eyes flashed. "I told him that it was true the story would embarrass a lot of people in Cedar Rapids who considered my father an important man. To me he was as important as a cockroach and nothing would give me more personal pleasure than letting the town in on some juicy scandal involving Lester Carter's daughter."

"How did he take that?"

"He just laughed and said, 'Well, see. That's when I walked out.'"

"Ellen, I'm glad you're going—glad you're getting away from here," Bray said quietly.

Ellen's voice softened. "I wish you could leave, too, Dr. Bray. Don't you think that if you called his bluff—"

"Not a chance! He's got me and he knows it. I'll stay all right. But I'm beginning to think that something's got to be done."

Bray was staring absent-mindedly into space.

"Something's got to be done," he repeated.

Chapter 3

That was a terribly important moment. I did want to see that that is so terribly important.

Ellen looked up to see the short man come in. It was Dr. Carter.

"This man came in to see the short man," he added peremptorily.

Ellen then came back into her office. She was a note on her desk. It was from Hubbard.

"Hubbard," she read, "I have just received a letter from her mother. She is very ill and needs you."

RED LETTER EVENT FOR ELKS

This community is to be particularly honored Tuesday when George I. Hall, Lynbrook, N. Y., grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will pay an official visit to Warren Lodge, No. 223. Officers and members of the local lodge have left nothing undone to make the event an auspicious one, and in this endeavor they have had the whole-hearted cooperation from interested residents of the community. Mr. Hall and his party will be guests at a reception at the Elks club preceding a dinner in his honor at the State Armory at seven o'clock, when he will address a meeting which will be attended by Elks from lodges throughout the area, who are coming to Warren to meet their leader. Interest centers on the program to "Make Democracy Work," which Grand Exalted Ruler Hall has launched in a drive against Communism and all forms of totalitarianism. Elks throughout the country have taken up the challenge and are devoting themselves to the development of healthy, intelligent youth who firmly believe in the democratic ideals of liberty, justice and the dignity of the individual. One of the most important events on the schedule of the grand exalted ruler during his stay in Warren will be a radio talk to all schools in the borough and county, which will be broadcast from Station WNAE at 2:45 o'clock. Our congratulations to the Warren Lodge of Elks, and greetings and best wishes to Grand Exalted Ruler Hall, his staff and other state and district officers.

TAX INFORMERS

Tax informers, whose inning comes after the income tax deadline last night, should hit the jackpot this year, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington. Officials acknowledged today that the prospects favor a record pay-off for evidence against tax evaders because: 1. There will be $500,000 available in the fiscal 1949 (ending next June 30) for paying informers. This is five times as much as Congress ever provided for that purpose before. 2. The top limit on payments to informers, 10 percent of the taxes recovered on the basis of their information, has been dropped. It has been replaced by a system of rewards decided on by officials as fair in each case. 3. Over 40,000,000 persons will be subject to federal income tax payments and, with rates high, temptation to cheat on tax returns will be strong—too strong for many. 4. The chief motivations for tax informing seem to endure and perhaps to grow. They include patriotic desire to prevent evasions by others, disgruntlement of employees, family feuds and jealousies, and women scorned. Informers have been getting a cut-in on tax-evasion recoveries for about 75 years. The fiscal year 1948 (ended last June 30) brought their biggest haul to date. They picked up $99,975 then—just $25 less than the total sum available for rewards—while Uncle Sam rang up a record $2,351,000 in tax collections that couldn't have been made without informer aid.

LENTEN SERMONETTE

The Rev. Earl W. Carlson, Youngsville
PERVERTED OR TRUE?
The Scribes and Pharisees were often accused by Jesus of keeping the letter of the law, but forgetting to exercise true righteousness. A very glaring example of their perversion of true religion is found in John 18:28. "And they themselves entered not into the Praetorium that they might not be defiled."
The Feast of the Passover was being celebrated in Jerusalem, and every good Jew desired to be ceremonially clean for that feast. They were afraid to be contaminated by the house of Pilate, who did not partake of that ceremony. How shallow was their conception of spiritual cleanliness? During the night they had held an illegal council meeting, they had bribed a man (Judas) to give information about an innocent Jew; they had engaged false witnesses to testify against Jesus; they came to Pilate with an implication for an accusation: "If this man were not an evil doer, we should not have delivered him unto you"; they even stooped to threaten to blackmail their Roman Governor with the words, "If thou release him, thou art not Caesar's friend."
Our condemnation of the Jews for their blind scrupulousness about pure religion is frequently profuse. Yet we need to examine ourselves for pretentious action! Are we pretending to be diligent in our work? To be striving toward moral purity? To be religious? To be interested in the execution of real justice?
Many individuals are trying to keep apace with a ritual of life which has lost its true meaning. Only when the Jesus on the Cross becomes the Jesus in our heart will be begun to know what it is to strive for true cleanliness—inside, and out!

That's Tying His Ears Back, All Right!

Here And There

Are the youngsters more mischievous today than they were fifty years ago? Well, take a glimpse at this from the Evening Mirror of March 16, 1899, and judge for yourself: "The sign which adorned a place on the sidewalk in front of the YMCA last evening, announcing a chicken supper, underwent some alterations at the hands of provoking boys during the night. Here is how it read this morning: 'Chicken fight at the YMCA Thursday night.' In the same issue we find this item which will interest many old-time readers: 'Charles Gieselbrecht, assistant secretary of the YMCA, has tendered his resignation to take effect April 15th. During the past three years Mr. Gieselbrecht has labored diligently and conscientiously for the advancement of the work and his resignation is much regretted by members of the association.'"
Potpourri: Tuesday's Post-Gazette carried a column article on one of the inside pages about the Chapman dog bill in which reference was made to the illustrated story in Life Magazine last week... Phil McEvoy, of South Orange, N. J., member of the Warren Lodge of Elks, who was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the official visit of Charles Spencer Hart, grand exalted ruler, to Warren in March, 1938, did not come to town to attend the dinner for Grand Exalted Ruler George Hall, as many believed, but was sent up from New York on a business mission by the firm where he is employed. It was just a coincidence that the trip occurred this week when the Elks are having a big meeting. Sorry... Roads were unusually slippery throughout the county Tuesday evening and it is indeed fortunate that no serious accidents occurred. Up at the YMCA Jimmy Eengst, boys' work secretary, has just released the February report of activities in his department which shows what might easily be a record month for that particular group in the association...

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Dem Labor Reform Program May Be Bogged for Months

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—The Democratic administration should now be plenty worried about its labor reform program, which is stymied. The case against the Taft-Hartley act has not registered. The bill to raise minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents an hour is confused by a number of side issues dragged before the House Labor Committee. Broadening of Social Security laws to increase coverage and benefits has run into tax program difficulties which mean delay. The National Health Insurance bill is scheduled for hearings but is given little chance for passage this year. Only positive action which the administration can report at the end of the first two months of this session of Congress is House passage of a bill to outlaw payment of overtime on overtime. The Senate Labor Committee's original intention to rush through repeal of the Taft-Hartley law and passage of the substitute Thomas bill was defeated. The full month's extended hearings have now been completed, but it is doubtful if the extra testimony changed any senator's mind one iota. It only confirmed past prejudices. Democratic Senators Murray, Pepper, Hill and Neely are for Chairman Elbert D. Thomas's bill. Republicans Taft, Smith and Donnell are against it, will give ground grudgingly and on minor points of modifying the Taft-Hartley law.

REPUBLICAN Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon holds a key to possible compromise in his proposal to present a labor bill of his own, based on modification of the original Wagner act. If Morse can carry along with him Senators Aiken, Ives and a dozen other liberal Republicans, they may be able to offer a corresponding number of conservative Southern Democrats expected to vote for retaining the more stringent provisions of the Taft-Hartley law. Whatever bill the Senate finally passes is going to be hammered out on the floor after a long hard fight. There will obviously be another hard battle in the House. It is doubtful if any new labor law will be ready by April when the first big union contract negotiations are scheduled to begin. Labor Secretary Maurice J. Tobin's 16 points of opposition to the Taft-Hartley law were supposed to head up the administration's drive for repeal, but somehow they did not click. Labor union representatives dwell on these and other objections based on their experiences under the first 18 months of Taft-Hartleyism, but they made no particular impression. THERE has been no apparent conspiracy or concerted action to oppose amendment of the Taft-Hartley act. But all interested organizations, following the lead of National Association of Manufacturers and U. S. Chamber of Commerce, have been heading the same way. "Committee for the Preservation of the Taft-Hartley Act" has started to grind out releases. Chairman of the committee is William Ingles, Washington registered lobbyist and labor adviser for Inland Steel, Allis Chalmers, J. I. Case, Falk Corp., Foremen's League for Education, American Mining Congress, American Hotel Association, and National Association of Electric Companies. Ingles is, in fact, the whole "committee." He merely picked this name to have a front for his Washington operations, in which he is given considerable latitude by the companies that retain him. Associated with him in this enterprise is ex-Congressman Gerald A. Landis, Indiana Republican, who served on the House Labor Committee till he was defeated for re-election last November. Another ex-congressman who has taken up cudgels to defend the Taft-Hartley law is ex-Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., Senator Taft's co-author. He has been retained as Washington representative of Tool Owners Union, Inc., which isn't a union at all.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

The Times-Mirror, in cooperation with Metzger-Wright's, is offering two new Easter hats to women readers who can sketch the best hat on a picture of a woman which is complete except for the fact that she has no hat... Roy Bell's police dog and bear which attracted so much attention at the fair this year, are being used in the publicity for Conneaut Lake, pictures of both appearing in the circular... On the list of high standing students at Princeton for this year is the name of Charles Butterfield, formerly of Warren and Orris Clinger of Tidoute... Tickets have been on sale for a basketball game to be played on the court between the team of the Warren chapter, Order of DeMolay and the Erie chapter of that order, for the benefit of Warren County Crippled Children's fund. It is expected that Hemie Anderson now attending Edinboro Teachers' College and Robert K. O'Brien of State College, will be on the local roster of the game. Invitations have been received by the Warren Kiwanis from the Jamestown club, announcing the stag dinner to be held at the Hotel Samuels. The Jamestown organization is expecting to win a singing contest from the local in spite of the wide reputation of the Warren quartet... Good progress is being made on the new bridge over the Conewango between Jamestown and Freusburg, leaving no doubt that it will be placed in service sometime in the summer... The first pussywills of the season were brought in by D. R. Foster, a mail carrier.

1939
Eleven members of the 1939-40 basketball team will be awarded letters at assembly it was announced by Director of Athletics, J. E. Ladd. They are: Manager Philip Africa, Robert Beatty, Harold Brown, Warren Check, Kenneth Christiansen, Harry Conroy, Thomas Conway, Richard Curren, Palmer Davis, Richard Tucker and Paul Weaver. Beatty and Weaver will be wearing their third varsity court award. Mrs. Raymond W. Steber, who is chairman for the Warren General Hospital charity ball on Easter Monday, has selected her chairmen of important committees. Mrs. Frederick Printz is ticket chairman, Mrs. E. S. Knabenshue heads the patrons' committee and Mrs. Gail Hamilton will handle the publicity... Commanders and Mrs. A. R. Schofield, Mr. and Mrs. William Crossett, will entertain the Shakespeare club at the Woman's Club for the last regular meeting of this season... Friends of Gerry Pearce, Jr., of Tucson, Arizona, are interested in the news that he has a new book of illustrations, "Plants of Sun and Sand," just off the press. Mr. Pearce, whose work has been shown here in several exhibits, is the son of a former Warrentite, Elbridge Gerry Pearce, and a nephew of Mrs. Robert Hall of this city.

SPRING OFFENSIVE IN THE COLD WAR

FINLAND: Some diplomats believe Scandinavia's action regarding Atlantic Pact might cause Soviet Union to move against Finland along lines of Czech coup.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA: A weak link in the Iron Curtain. Russia reportedly has decided Czechs are too independent and may focus on them. It fears Premier Klement Gottwald, in growing disfavor, may turn into another Tito.

HUNGARY: U. S. Minister Chapin warned State Department Hungary is building up army, in violation of peace treaty. Red Army officers are allegedly organizing Hungarian troops into "action squads," presumably aimed against Tito.

TURKEY: Russia shifted her sights to Eastern Mediterranean, demanding that Turkey outline its attitude on Atlantic Pact, or subsidiary Mediterranean agreement. This may be start of renewed Soviet drive to gain bigger voice in control of Dardanelles.

ALBANIA: Undoubtedly with Moscow's backing, Albania began war of nerves against Tito with a call to Yugoslavs to revolt.

RUSSIA PREPS FOR ANOTHER ROUND IN COLD WAR: This map highlights significant developments in Communist strategy which indicate stepping up of the Soviet Cold War spring campaign in Eastern Europe. The events show that Russia is concentrating more on building up the Iron Curtain, following her drastic cabinet-shakeup.

Ambitious Baseball Program For District Boys Is Outlined At Hot Stove League Meeting

Members of the Warren chapter of the Hot Stove League, meeting in the Warren Municipal building last night, laid the groundwork for an ambitious baseball program in the Warren community this summer for boys in the 9 to 15 age bracket.

Plans discussed indicate the local chapter will sponsor a midge league for youngsters nine to 12 years old and an intermediate league for those 12 to 15. It is planned to enroll at least one team in each league from each of the nine wards in Warren, and also teams from Starbrick, Pleasant township, and the North Warren-Venturetown area. Some of the ward representatives said they would have two or even three teams from their wards.

Charles Musante, president of the local chapter, said arrangements for registering the boys will be announced tomorrow. It is pointed out that any boy in the community in the 9 to 15 age bracket will be welcome. Membership for youngsters will cost 25 cents, while sponsoring memberships for adults in the Hot Stove League will be a minimum of one dollar.

Registration of interested boys will be completed before the next meeting of the Hot Stove League, slated for Tuesday night, March 22, in the Municipal building. At that time, ward representatives will receive official membership cards, which they in turn will pass along to the boys registered in their districts.

These membership cards will serve as admission for a big Hot Stove League rally for boys and adults planned for Tuesday night, March 29, in the Warren Armory.

It is hoped that several outstanding baseball stars will attend the rally.

Musante, who presided last night, said arrangements are being made to have 10 baseball diamonds available in the district for league games. These will include a new playing field in the upper Conewango avenue section, one on the old brewery lot on the southside and one in Pleasant township, in addition to the fields that were in use last year.

Roger Hendrickson was named secretary of the organization to replace "Rabbit" Swanson, who resigned. Swanson, however, plans to continue an active interest in the Hot Stove League and will draw on his many years of experience in baseball in helping to organize the various leagues.

Committees named last night to check on cost of equipment included Emmy Morrison and Richard Hines, ball gloves, bats and chest protectors; and Bill Fies, sweat shirts and caps. Art Johnson is chairman of the finance committee which seeks supporting contributions from clubs, industries, businesses and other organizations.

Those attending last night's meeting included Ray Caldwell, former major league pitcher, Ray Bennett, Albert W. Poner, Robert J. Haber, Mike Blech, Floyd Buchanan, Amos Wert, Frank Seely, Nick Creola, R. Harvey, W. Morse, Harry Black, Richard Hines, Emmy Morrison, Charles Musante, Roger Hendrickson, Frank Gerard, Sam Cosmano, Bill Paris, Art Johnson and Bob Moorhead.

Legion Plans Anniversary Day Program

March 17th not only marks the anniversary of the great St. Patrick but will be the occasion of the annual birthday party of the American Legion, to be held in the Legion Home by units of Chief Complanter Post, No. 135.

Starting off with a tureen dinner, the evening's schedule calls for a short program immediately following the serving.

Cyrus Siegfried, post historian, will give a brief review of events which have taken place since the founding of the American Legion 30 years ago in Nice, France, and the development of the group into the largest and most powerful veterans' organization in the world.

After the dinner and program, a floor show and special entertainment will be enjoyed in the clubrooms.

In 1457 the Scottish Parliament passed a law prohibiting golf on the ground that the sport was keeping men from their required archery.

Oxygen Tents Goal Of Local Campaign

Dinsmoor-Schwinn Post, No. 631, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has asked the Times-Mirror to publish the following self-explanatory communication:

Again the time of year is here when the drifting mass of subscription agents will be calling on us, and will dupe many of us if we are not careful.

At the present time there is a legitimate crew working in cooperation with the VFW Auxiliary and the proceeds of their campaign will be used to purchase thermol-ox-oxygen tents for residents of Warren county, to be free to all residents who have need of it in emergencies.

However, these people can properly identify themselves and will not object to anyone calling the VFW Auxiliary to check the authenticity of their project. Names of the workers are John Jaquay, Warren Campbell, Virginia Campbell, Burdett Shepard, John Zariczny, Russell Amsden and Helen Gieger.

Cooperation of the public in making this program a success will be greatly appreciated.

Racing upstream against strong Mississippi River currents, the diesel-powered Harry Truman failed to beat the record of the famed Robert E. Lee. The Lee ended its historic race along a 1051-mile course in three days, 18 hours and 14 minutes in 1870. The Truman, pushing one barge laden with 1100 tons of cargo, failed to match that speed by one hour and 16 minutes, although the distance from New Orleans to St. Louis is now considerably shorter due to changes in the river channel. Here, the modern barge is shown 80 miles north of Memphis, Tenn.

Audrey Brownell - Alvin Cable Wed In Candlelight Rites On March 12th

White gladioli and candelabra were used against a background of palms to provide a pretty setting in Grace Methodist church for the wedding of Miss Audrey Brownell, daughter of Mrs. Blanche Brownell, of Big Bend, and Alvin Cable, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cable, of Allegheny.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harold Knappenger, pastor, at 2 p. m., Saturday, March 12. Mrs. Kenneth was at the organ to play "Un Peu D'Amour" by Sileau, "O Perfect Love" by Babin and the traditional Wagner and Mendelssohn nuptial airs. She was accompanied, also, for Earl Erickson, who sang "O Promise Me" by DeKoven, "Because" by D. Hardlot, and "I Love You Truly" by Bond.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Linn Atkins, of Big Bend, who was 81 years old on February 29th.

Her gown of heavy white satin was styled with sweetheart neckline and train and her veil fell fingertip length from a crown of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls and her shower bouquet was fashioned of white lilies.

Janis Brownell, as her sister's maid of honor, was gowned in lavender faille in a hoopskirt model, wore matching mitts and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses. Bridesmaids were Betty Fitzgerald and Carol Niver, both in hoopskirt frocks of green faille and wearing matching mitts. Each carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Steril Tuller was best man for Mr. Cable and ushers were Donald Blair, Freensburg, N. Y., Clifford Cable, Allegheny, Jack Abplanalp, Irvine, and Marion Blackmer, North Warren.

Mrs. Brownell chose for her daughter's wedding a frock of rose pink crepe, with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of dark blue prim, dark accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

The reception was held in the church dining room, where the serving table was centered with a four-tier wedding cake topped with traditional bridal couple. Mrs. Fred Carlson and Miss Martha Kimball poured, while hostesses were Mrs. Donald Blair and Mrs. Steril Tuller, with Miss Barbara Sorensen and Mrs. Leonard Shultz helping to serve the guests. Eighteen were seated at the bride's table.

Mr. Cable is attending Bliss Electrical School in Washington, D. C. and Mrs. Cable is employed by the New Process Company. They will make their home at Big Bend until Mr. Cable completes his schooling.

Following the announcement party and shower given by her sister, Janis, at the YWCA, the bride-elect was honored with showers given by Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald and Mrs. Augie Werlin, and by Miss Kimball at the Hemlock community house receiving many lovely gifts for her future home.

Legion Auxiliary Has Fine Paper At Monthly Meeting

At the regular meeting of Chief Complanter unit, 135, American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Sidney W. Blackman, Americanism chairman, presented a very interesting paper on the writings of Dean Russell, Foundation for Economic Education, in which he reviewed the reasons prompting the founders in the forming of our government, with particular attention called to the Bill of Rights at the time it was appended to the Constitution.

She quoted him as saying: "The Bill of Rights still shines in all its splendor, but many of us are looking in another direction. Many of us are drifting back to that old concept of government for security. Many of us are no longer willing to accept individual responsibility. Yet, personal freedom cannot exist without individual responsibility, that is the responsibility for one's own welfare. Thus the American people are on the verge of a final decision. The choice is between destruction caused by government paternalism, and the security insured by individual freedom premised on its essential prerequisite, self responsibility, as expressed in the Bill of Rights."

Mrs. George Cobb, unit president, announced plans for the Legion birthday party, an annual affair, the Post and Auxiliary co-operating for a social evening on March 17th.

The membership unanimously voted a substantial contribution to the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Cobb also announced plans for a "Deshon" shower, every member to bring or send a prize suitable for games of all kinds, to the next regular meeting. These gifts are to be made available through the hospital chairman representing the American Legion Auxiliary at Deshon Hospital in Butler, for use in the recreational therapy program which is recognized today as an essential in promoting complete rehabilitation. Members are reminded that a few women patients are found in the hospital census.

Mrs. Richard Harrison, Miss Olive Tucker and Mrs. George Cunningham served delicious refreshments from a table cleverly arranged in a St. Patrick's motif.

Jamestown Young People Will Come Here On Saturday

Freshmen through twenties are eligible for the community youth party to be held at West Junior High School on Saturday night of this week, first of a series of "exchange" parties with young people of other communities, with Jamestown providing the visiting delegation.

Hours for the affair are eight until eleven o'clock, according to the co-chairmen, Bill Schellhammer and Patty McFarland.

Margie Neumann is chairman of the refreshments; Dick Cunningham in charge of games; John McGarry, set-up; Don Wood will extend the welcome to the visitors from Jamestown; Roger Parfitt is planning decorations and Sally Reed will supervise door arrangements.

JoAnn Samuelson is chairman of the group of young people coming from the Jamestown "Rec" and bringing the band and floor show.

Warren young people are hard at work to make this party a great success and to assure a fine welcome for the visitors.

Young people from Warren will be entertained at Jamestown on April 8.

For Beauty and Abundance Lay Out Garden This Way

Most home gardeners will agree that even a flower border is no more beautiful than a precisely laid-out vegetable plot, with crops growing in straight parallel rows, squared with plot boundaries, without a weed to be seen.

Not only beauty, but efficiency is gained by such a layout. One quick trip with a wheel hoe down the straight aisle between two rows will destroy hundreds of weed sprouts, in a fraction of the time required to cultivate a disorderly garden.

Rows should be spaced with varying distances between them, depending on two factors: The needs of the crop, and the convenience of cultivation. In rich soil vegetables may be spaced more closely than in poor; but when spaced too close together, it is difficult to cultivate between the rows.

Crops growing twelve inches tall or less may be spaced 10 inches to a foot apart if cultivated with hand tools. For a wheel hoe, eighteen inches is likely to be found a minimum distance to avoid disturbing the roots of the vegetables.

Taller vegetables, and those that make vines, large bushes, or have a sprawling habit, must be given more distance between rows. In small gardens, 4 feet will usually be the maximum distance, given only for such crops as bush squash and cucumbers.

After you know where the rows are to be, a line should be stretched to mark the first row.

Some gardeners use a straight, narrow board as a ruler to mark the row. A heavy cord wound on an iron reel is handy, but any strong cord stretched between two stakes will do.

Using the corner of a hoe, draw in the soft soil a shallow trench with this line as a guide. This is known as a drill. Some prefer to use the end of the hoe handle rather than the corner of the blade. Others have small hoes which they like; but it is more a matter of touch than the tool.

For small seeds such as radishes, onions, carrots, lettuce, and endive, a drill half an inch deep is enough. A little deeper for beets and Swiss chard, and an inch for peas, beans and sweet corn will be sufficient. Shallow sowing is preferred nowadays in the cool, moist spring, but make drills a little deeper when hot weather comes.

Church Women To Hold Conference In Altoona Soon

Announcement is made today by Mrs. Ernest Kaebnick, chairman of the Warren Interdenominational Mission Study Group, that the 16th annual conference of the Pennsylvania Council of Church Women will be held April 28, 27 and 28 in the First Presbyterian church in Altoona.

This will be the first statewide gathering ever held outside of Harrisburg and the general theme will be "Together We Advance".

A program fitted to the needs of the day is being planned. It will challenge church women of Pennsylvania to a deeper consecration that there may be an advance in Christian living in our homes, churches, communities, state, nation and world.

Hostess organization will be the Altoona Interdenominational Council of Church Women. The conference is not a delegated meeting and all interested women of Warren are urged to attend.

The Warren Interdenominational group is anxious to have each affiliated missionary society well represented at the conference and requests that each one plan to send at least one representative. All registrations must be in by April 8, since a record meeting is anticipated.

Warren women interested are asked to call the local chairman, Mrs. Kaebnick, for further details and all are urged to make this the outstanding women's conference of Pennsylvania.

Original Story By Mrs. A. C. Flick Features Meeting

For the final meeting of the Literature Department, held Monday afternoon at the Woman's Club, Mrs. A. C. Flick, Jr., read her latest original story, "The Truth About Calypso Temple," a story well written in every sense of the word.

The author held the attentive interest of her audience from the opening sentence to the final word. Her listeners were charmed with the clear-cut description of the characters, the free-moving sequence of events leading up to the solution of a crime and the unexpected happy culmination of the love theme.

At a short business meeting conducted by the chairman, Mrs. Ernestine Hill, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. H. B. Forbes, chairman; Mrs. S. M. McClure, vice chairman, Mrs. Fred Emhardt, secretary.

Mrs. W. C. Puellhart announced there will be a club dinner on Thursday, March 24, and a club luncheon-meeting on the 28th.

Mrs. E. M. Mathis remarked that Mrs. J. C. Runk, of Bradford Woods, will be the speaker for the Community Service Department meeting on March 21. Mrs. Runk is chairman of the soil conservation committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Hostess for this week's tea was Mrs. William E. Yeager, assisted by Mrs. Leon Laskaris and Mrs. Warren Stone. The tea table was prettily decorated with white flowers, green ribbons and candles.

Fight For Democracy Major Objective Of Elk Leader

Grand Exalted Ruler Calls On Members To Join Battle On Anti-Democratic Forces

George I. Hall of Lynbrook, New York, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, has made the fight for democracy the major objective of his administration.

Hall began his career as a newsboy in the rough and tumble of New York's streets. He is a navy veteran of World War I. Now 52, and an executive of one of the country's largest corporations, Hall, grateful for the opportunities that a democratic society gave him, wants to preserve those opportunities for future Americans.

Not as a fanatic, blind to democracy's faults, but as a level-headed businessman aware of its virtues, Hall called on America's 850,000 Elks to defend democracy with a

Warren Plays Host To Many Elk Notables

Four or five grand lodge officers will accompany Grand Exalted Ruler George I. Hall, of New York City, when he comes to Warren for a reception and banquet Thursday afternoon and evening. Included in the party will be the grand secretary and assistant grand secretary.

The presence of the grand exalted ruler will also attract most of the officers of the Pennsylvania State Elks Association, according to word received by Ruel H. Smith, general chairman of the committee in charge.

Acceptances have been received from the following well known Elk leaders in the grand lodge and state association:

George I. Hall, New York, N. Y. grand exalted ruler.

J. Edgar Masters, Chicago, Ill., grand secretary, Past G. E. R.

F. J. Schrader, Chicago, Ill., assistant grand secretary, past state president.

Howard R. Davis, Williamsport, grand trustee, secretary of board.

H. Earl Pitzer, Biglerville, chairman, committee on credentials.

Lee A. Donaldson, Etna, Pittsburgh, State Associations Comm. past state president.

State Association Officers:

John T. Gross, Allentown, president.

John H. Bennett, Renova, vice president.

Charles S. Brown, Pittsburgh, state treasurer.

George W. Fox, Clearfield, chairman, board of trustees.

Frank D. Croop, Berwick, vice chairman, board of trustees.

John McClure, Wilkesburg, state treasurer.

Past State Presidents Ralph C. Robinson, Pittsburgh; Regis J. Maloney, DuBois; James Bohlander, Franklin; Wilbur Baird, Sharon, Pa.

The Northwest District, where Warren lodge took an active part before being assigned to the North district, will be well represented at the reception for the Grand Exalted Ruler. A large delegation will be on hand from Sharon lodge, where Mr. Hall is scheduled to visit on Friday.

While emphasizing youth building activities, the Order of Elks under Grand Exalted Ruler Hall's leadership has not neglected its obligation to those veterans whose bodies were disabled in the defense of democracy. A year-round program embracing every veterans hospital brings them entertainment and recreation, and supplies them with materials for occupational therapy.

These and many other benevolent and civic activities of the Elks last year involved an expenditure of nearly six million dollars.

Supporting this campaign, the Order of Elks conducts an extensive program of activities designed to develop healthy, intelligent youth equipped for citizenship in a democracy. This year, Elks will award 200 college scholarships to needy students of outstanding ability, under a program now in its seventeenth year. In clinics and hospitals, some of them owned and operated by the Order, thousands of crippled children are receiving treatment that will help make them useful citizens. Elks lodges sponsor 500 Boy Scout troops in areas where boys had previously been denied this opportunity. Each year, Elks provide thousands of underprivileged boys and girls with the benefits of summer camps; Elks have provided many communities with well-equipped youth centers.

Under the wise and aggressive leadership of its early members, which has continued down through the years, the Elk Lodge in Warren has enjoyed steady growth and increasing influence for good in the community.

From the Knights of Pythias hall the Lodge moved first to the Moran block, later known as the Bell Oil Co. building, then to the Knights of Pythias, from which they moved in 1906, to the then new Crandall block in Hickory street, occupying the entire second and third floors where they remained until these quarters became inadequate owing to the still larger membership.

In the year, 1910, they purchased their present beautiful site at the corner of Hickory street and Fourth avenue, where now stands the commodious Elks home, as a monument to the hard work and good judgment of its early members, whose continued oversight and cooperation in all matters pertaining to the good of the organization has elevated the Warren Lodge to a position of great prominence within the order, which is devoted to fostering the spirit of true Americanism, cooperation with a broad degree of charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity, which are the principles upon which this great order was founded, and which it at all times undertakes to exemplify by practice, and commands itself not only to its members, but to the general public as well.

What does it mean to become a member of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks?

It means that you will become one of a great fraternity having about a million members in every part of the country.

If you are a stranger in a community, you will find friends at once; if you need assistance, you will receive it; if you are sick you will be looked after.

In nearly every city of any size in the country you will find a club house, ranging in size from the Chicago lodge's new building to the comfortable home-like and newly-decorated quarters of Warren Lodge. These club houses are open to Elks everywhere.

If you like ritualistic services, you will find that of the Elks to be full of sentiment you will respect. No one can take the obligation of the Order of Elks without being a better man.

Finally, in the lodge meeting, and in the club you will meet hundreds of your friends and neighbors. You will find high and low; those who are rich and those whose means are limited. Neither religions, creed nor political opinion counts—you will be received for what you are.

Democracy is the foundation of Elksdom and within the ranks of your local lodge you find old friends and have an opportunity to make new ones.

Bowling, pool, billiards and cards provide the pastime for members of the Warren lodge of Elks. One of the most active groups is the bridge club which holds a tournament each Thursday evening, regardless of counter attractions. Although it will be interesting to learn where they will hold forth this week!

In nearly every city of any size in the country you will find a club house, ranging in size from the Chicago lodge's new building to the comfortable home-like and newly-decorated quarters of Warren Lodge. These club houses are open to Elks everywhere.

If you like ritualistic services, you will find that of the Elks to be full of sentiment you will respect. No one can take the obligation of the Order of Elks without being a better man.

Finally, in the lodge meeting, and in the club you will meet hundreds of your friends and neighbors. You will find high and low; those who are rich and those whose means are limited. Neither religions, creed nor political opinion counts—you will be received for what you are.

Democracy is the foundation of Elksdom and within the ranks of your local lodge you find old friends and have an opportunity to make new ones.

Bowling, pool, billiards and cards provide the pastime for members of the Warren lodge of Elks. One of the most active groups is the bridge club which holds a tournament each Thursday evening, regardless of counter attractions. Although it will be interesting to learn where they will hold forth this week!

The first officers of Warren lodge, when it was chartered fifty-six years ago were: A. C. McAlpine, exalted ruler; W. A. Greaves, leading knight; George S. Davis, loyal knight; W. S. Pierce, lecturing knight; Joseph A. Schofield, secretary; E. C. Knupp, treasurer; B. F. Noyes, esquire; F. E. Reed, tiler; R. W. Stuart, chaplain; L. F. Valentine, inner guard; board of trustees, D. D. Reed, H. P. Hunter, B. G. Gregory, J. A. Best, and Joseph A. Schofield.

Warren Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was organized in the old Knights of Pythias Hall, over the building now occupied by the Community Discount Company, corner Pennsylvania avenue and Hickory street, in June, 1892, with 28 charter members.

The officers first elected were: A. C. McAlpine, exalted ruler; W. A. Greaves, leading knight; George S. Davis, loyal knight; W. S. Pierce, lecturing knight; Joseph A. Schofield, secretary; E. C. Knupp, treasurer; B. F. Noyes, esquire; F. E. Reed, tiler; R. W. Stuart, chaplain; L. F. Valentine, inner guard; who with the board of trustees composed of D. D. Reed, H. P. Hunter, B. G. Gregory, J. A. Best and Joseph A. Schofield, undertook the building of what has become one of the most conspicuous organizations in the county.

Under the wise and aggressive leadership of its early members, which has continued down through the years, the Elk Lodge in Warren has enjoyed steady growth and increasing influence for good in the community.

From the Knights of Pythias hall the Lodge moved first to the Moran block, later known as the Bell Oil Co. building, then to the Knights of Pythias, from which they moved in 1906, to the then new Crandall block in Hickory street, occupying the entire second and third floors where they remained until these quarters became inadequate owing to the still larger membership.

In the year, 1910, they purchased their present beautiful site at the corner of Hickory street and Fourth avenue, where now stands the commodious Elks home, as a monument to the hard work and good judgment of its early members, whose continued oversight and cooperation in all matters pertaining to the good of the organization has elevated the Warren Lodge to a position of great prominence within the order, which is devoted to fostering the spirit of true Americanism, cooperation with a broad degree of charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity, which are the principles upon which this great order was founded, and which it at all times undertakes to exemplify by practice, and commands itself not only to its members, but to the general public as well.

What does it mean to become a member of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks?

It means that you will become one of a great fraternity having about a million members in every part of the country.

If you are a stranger in a community, you will find friends at once; if you need assistance, you will receive it; if you are sick you will be looked after.

In nearly every city of any size in the country you will find a club house, ranging in size from the Chicago lodge's new building to the comfortable home-like and newly-decorated quarters of Warren Lodge. These club houses are open to Elks everywhere.

Hundreds Of Members Will Invade Warren Thursday For Reception To High Officials

The principal address will be delivered by Mr. Hall, and the other formalities at the dinner will be restricted to introduction of grand lodge and state association officers, and other notable guests.

Entertainment at the banquet will be provided by George Bailey, well known memory expert, and an assistant of Freeport. Vocal music will be furnished by the Elks quartet consisting of Stewart Nelson, Bill Duff, Howard Johnson and Art McDonald. Jordan's orchestra will furnish the music.

The final event on the busy day's schedule will be a buffet luncheon and reception at the Elk club scheduled to get under way about 10:30 o'clock. A program of special music is being arranged for this part of the program.

Ruel H. Smith, exalted ruler and chairman of the executive committee, along with members of the various subcommittees, have been busy for the past several weeks preparing for the event and last evening at a final meeting everything was declared to be in readiness to make tomorrow's gathering a great success.

This will be the third time in the history of the lodge that Warren has been honored with a visit from a grand exalted ruler. It was in 1932 that Grand Exalted Ruler John R. Coen made an official visitation to Warren as the guest of the Northwest District, when a large class was initiated by a district degree team. In 1935, when the late Frank J. Lyons was president of the Northwest district, Warren again was chosen as the lodge to entertain Grand Exalted Ruler Charles Spencer Hart, when a class of about 200 from lodges in the district was initiated.

The grand exalted ruler will be accompanied by Grand Secretary J. Edgar Masters, of Chicago; Assistant Grand Secretary F. J. Schrader, also of Chicago, and a number of other grand lodge officers and committee chairmen, all of whom are listed in another column of this issue.

John T. Gross, president of the Pennsylvania State Elks Association, of Allentown, will head a large delegation of other state officers including at least four past state presidents. It is expected that at least thirty exalted rulers from lodges in the North and Northwest districts in Pennsylvania, and many from nearby New York state lodges will be in attendance.

The grand exalted ruler will go from here to Sharon for a reception Friday evening.

Program For Reception and Banquet To G. E. R. Hall

The following program has been arranged for the reception and banquet to be tendered by Warren Lodge No. 223, B. P. O. Elks, North District, in honor of George I. Hall, grand exalted ruler, Thursday afternoon and evening:

Arrive in Warren some time between twelve and one o'clock from Pittsburgh. To be escorted from the borough line by police squad, to the Elk club for official welcome.

Luncheon at one o'clock at the Carver Hotel, with welcoming committee as hosts.

Reception and entertainment at Elk club at six o'clock.

Banquet, speech-making, entertainment, State Armory, seven o'clock.

Buffet luncheon and entertainment at Elk club at 11:30 o'clock.

Ruel H. Smith, E. R., is chairman of the banquet committee; Claude Schindler, P. E. R., chairman of the ticket committee.

Entire Interior Of the Local Club Recently Redecorated

The entire interior of the Warren Elks Club has been completely redecorated. As one enters the club the soft gray green of the walls and the beauty of the mahogany wood panelling gives a fresh new look. The spacious hall is carpeted in a ruby red with large black scroll designs. The French doors and all entrances are curtained in a rayon casement in tones of ivory and beige.

The large card and pool room has walls of medium green and draperies of parchment cotton brocade. The high wood dado in the Grill room with its scenic land of decorative figures is a fitting background for the fox red nubby cotton drapery.

Williamsburg blue walls in the reading room and library are most effective. Draperies and lamp shades are in a soft crimson.

The office and coat room walls are done in a light must tan.

Soft gray green is the color also used on walls in upper hallway with draperies many shades darker than the walls.

The card room on the second floor of the club has warm cloud gray walls with deeper colored trim and straight hung draperies of French blue repp.

Sentiment of 11 O'clock Toast

Keeping ever green in the hearts of the members the memory of the departed is one of the most beautiful of the teachings of the order and it is symbolized in the 11 o'clock toast, "To Our Absent Brother." Everywhere throughout the country where there is an Elks' Lodge the thoughts of the living revert at 11 o'clock to those that have departed this life in the body but are ever with us in the spirit.

The Elks' lodge is entirely free from both political and religious prejudice. A belief in the existence of a Supreme Being is all. The lodge is not concerned with the form in which this belief is expressed in the church affiliation of its members, the organization being predicated on the belief of its membership in the imperishable principles of charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity. The spreading arms of this broad belief in man for man, embrace the Jew and the gentile, the Catholic and the Protestant, the rich and the poor, all men that believe in the Fatherhood of God and the common brotherhood of man.

The motto of the order is: "The faults of our brothers we write upon the sands, and their virtues upon the tablets of love and memory." With the ground work and foundation of the golden rule for life: "Do unto others as you would they should do unto you." Our colors are purple and white and floral emblem "that blue and bright-eyed flower of the brook, hopes gentle gem, forget-me-not." The songs sung in the lodge rooms are "The Star Spangled Banner," "Nearer My God to Thee," "Home Sweet Home," and "Auld Lang Syne."

Cleveland Is Planning For Convention

The 35th grand lodge convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will be held in the thriving Buckeye State metropolis of Cleveland, Ohio, opening July 10th. Regarding preliminary plans for the gathering Cyril A. Kramser, grand esquire, has the following to say in a special article in the current Elks Magazine:

And there'll be much to keep you on the go. From the time of your arrival until the point of your departure, we hope to keep you pleasantly busy either transacting the business of Elksdom or availing yourself of the many entertainment features—the famous Metropolitan Park System that circles the county, 90 miles of scenic beauty; the art museum; the public auditorium; the municipal stadium where an exhibition game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and Cleveland Indians will be played under the lights, followed by a gigantic display of pyrotechnics—these and innumerable other attractions will hold your interest. In this, the key city of the Western Reserve, Milady may shop to her heart's content. And when the night parade of floats portraying the Grand Exalted Ruler's slogan, "Make Democracy Work", travels down famous Euclid Avenue, you'll be thrilled by the hearty acclaim of the tens of thousands who will border the line of march.

Yes, Cleveland, the home of the 1948 champions—the Cleveland Indians, World's Baseball Champions; the Cleveland Browns, All-America Football Conference Champions; the Cleveland Barons, American Hockey League Champions—goes all-out in extending the hand of good-fellowship to the Champions of Brotherly Love, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

Plan now to attend the 35th Grand Lodge Convention at Cleveland, July 10th to 14th. Join with your State Association in organizing bands, uniformed Drill Teams, marching groups, and in the promotion of a State float.

It would not be amiss for stores and business houses to display some kind of decorations or greetings for the large number of visitors who will be in town for the big reception.

A Message From The Grand Exalted Ruler

The Elk Magazine

Throughout my visits I have stressed my program to "Make Democracy Work" emphasizing the important role that education of our youth plays in that program. To this appeal our membership has responded most effectively. I recently forwarded a communication to all the lodges urging our Brothers to cooperate by arranging for the distribution of "Our American Heritage" to the various schools in their jurisdiction. "Our American Heritage" is the title of six film strips for use in schools to bring home to our children the thrilling story of the development of our Democratic Freedoms.

I have been stirred to greater effort on behalf of the spread of my program by the fine response being received from our subordinate lodges, which have made arrangements for the distribution of these films in accordance with my request.

minds the true history of the birth and progress of our Nation in our democratic form of government, the better citizens they will become—always on the alert to give their all for the continuance of our American Way of Life.

In closing this message to you, I am making an appeal for an all-out effort by every lodge of our Order to the end that through our support and cooperation, we will have presented "Our American Heritage" in every school in our jurisdiction.

GEORGE I. HALL,
GRAND EXALTED RULER,
B. P. O. ELKS.

A number of the delegations are coming to Warren in chartered buses, which will be parked in the vicinity of the club during the time that the visitors are in town.

There were twenty-eight names of prominent Warren citizens on the charter roll when the lodge was instituted by the late James B. Borland, district deputy grand exalted ruler, in June, 1892.

WHAT IS AN ELK?

What is an Elk? Well, let me see! He's one whose heart is light and free;
A man who's honest to the ground
Who spreads God's sunshine all around;
He's one who always seeks a plan To help along his fellowman.
Upon his heart our virtues stand, And that's an Elk.

What is an Elk? A prince, I think.
Oh yes, he'll sometimes take a drink,
But when you're down and out, my friends,
There is the hand he always lends;
His heart is there, his purse is too; And always to his oath he's true:
He's one when life seems dark and drear
Will give you words of hope and cheer—
And that's an Elk.

What is an Elk? When all is said, He soothes the sick and mourns the dead;
He is not always blithe and gay, He knows there comes a time to pray;
And when a brother's called above His grave is moist with tears of love
And as time goes, the page we scan,
The world is better for the man—
And that's an Elk.
Anonymous.

The late Thomas E. Cook was exalted ruler of Warren Lodge when the first grand exalted ruler visited Warren lodge in 1920. Roy K. Russell held that important office when Grand Exalted Ruler John Coen visited the local lodge in 1932.

Fine Co-operation By Lodge Members

The greatest co-operation on the part of active members as a whole was the factor that contributed to the success of the Elk gathering in Warren Thursday. The committee and active members are entitled to the greatest praise for the thorough arrangements that were completed over the weekend. The State Armory where the banquet will be served Thursday evening never looked more attractive in bunting, flags, and Elks colors than it does today. Exalted Ruler and his committee are to be congratulated on the thoroughness of the arrangements.

Warren Lodge is believed to have the most active bowling league of any club in either the North or Northwest district. There are thirty teams in the league this year, with approximately six men on each.

"Hello Bill" Always A Familiar Salute

"Hello Bill," the familiar old countersign which will be heard everywhere on the streets of Warren tomorrow, had its origin in Minneapolis, where a reunion was held in 1897. The original "Bill," treasurer of Minneapolis Lodge No. 44, for many years, was chairman of the finance committee during that time and had served on so many committees that he was considered fraternally an encyclopedia of general information.

When visitors besieged headquarters with an endless chain of questions, they were told by those not well enough posted to answer, to "ask Bill."

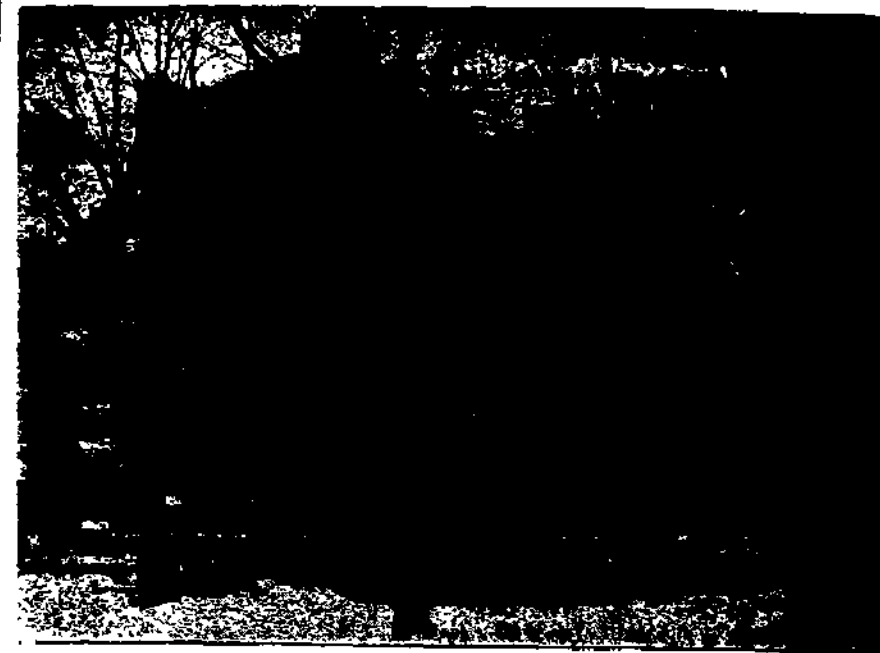

This happened so often that finally strangers got the habit of prefacing their questions with a "Hello, Bill."

It became so popular that it spread throughout the city, and Elks all over the country adopted it as their slogan. As an expression of good fellowship "Hello, Bill" rarely fails to bring quick response from a brother thus accosted.

"Hello, Bill!"

Warren Lodge had 74 candidates in the class that was initiated on the occasion of the visit of Grand Exalted Ruler Charles Spencer Hart March 26, 1938.

Scene of Big Banquet

In the large auditorium of this structure in Hickory street, almost opposite the Elks club, Grand Exalted Ruler George I. Hall will be guest of honor at a banquet Thursday evening. Reservations have been made for about 500 for the dinner and entertainment.

There are almost 5,000 species among the fern family, which bears neither flowers nor seeds.

Five members active in planning the reception for Grand Exalted Ruler Hall were initiated in the John R. Coen class, and are now past exalted rulers of Warren lodge.

A soft coloring of powder blue gives the color note to walls and woodwork in the ladies' room. A provincial stripe in Everglaze chintz decorates the windows and large boudoir dressing table.

The lodge room and foyer are painted in three shades of Palazzo blue-green. Six windows, two of which are large arch-top windows with deep shaped valances, are draped in a rich dahlia red velvet. The stage curtain of dark blue green is designed with wide bands of the same red velvet.

Color is everywhere and the entire club is definitely a place of beauty and comfort.

Decorative ideas, suggestions and color schemes submitted by Geraldine E. Nelson.

The property for the commodious home of the Elk club, at the corner of Fourth avenue and Hickory street, was purchased by the lodge in 1910. It is a compliment to the judgment and foresightedness of the officials of almost forty years ago to say that there have been no important changes in the architecture of the club house since that time, and visitors from far and wide have been loud in their praise over the ideal arrangement and layout of the home.

Pinochle has always been a favorite card game with a small group of members of the local Elk club.

Royal Purple
Official Color
Of Elk Lodge

Royal purple was adopted to be the official color of the B. P. O. Elks at the grand lodge session in Buffalo in 1882, when Grand Exalted Ruler Edwin B. Hays so recommended in his annual report. At the same time and in the same way the forget-me-not was made the floral emblem of the order.

Previously, in 1882, when the New York lodge was conducting its annual charity ball, and for the purposes of diversifying the decorations, it was requested of the various other lodges of the order that they each be represented by a differently colored banner. Colors had previously been assigned to the lodges. For instance:

Distinguishing their own lodge, New York members had a color combination of red and blue, by which colors the No. 1 lodge is known today. To Baltimore lodge had been assigned the colors of black and yellow, oriole semblances. Indianapolis lodge had been awarded canary yellow, and sent in a banner accordingly. Cincinnati was pure white in appearance. And so the variations continued until each of the lodges then existing was represented by a different color, or color combinations.

It happened that after royal purple had been chosen as the official color of the order, the Grand Lodge met in Cincinnati. Originally Cincinnati had been given white, for which color a local partiality still prevailed. Then it was, that in providing for the public decorations, a blend of royal purple and white was conceived. To this day most every Elk is of the opinion that royal purple and white used in combination are the official Elk colors, whereas royal purple, unless in the intervening years some Grand Lodge action has amended and changed the Hay recommendation, remains the solitary official color.

Elks Thankful To Their Local Friends

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the entertainment and reception of Grand Exalted Ruler George I. Hall and party asked the Times-Mirror to state that it is a pleasure for Warren Lodge No. 223, B. P. O. Elks, to acknowledge with the deepest sense of gratitude the interest displayed by all citizens of the community in the activities of the lodge. Special mention is made of those business men who have joined in extended welcoming greetings to the visitors.

One of the most popular winter activities at the Elk club in recent years has been the annual cribbage tournament which usually attracts around forty or fifty contestants.

Titusville Herald: Peter A. Peterson, 90, died at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning at his home, 530 West Spruce street. He had been seriously ill for about 12 weeks, but during the past week or so showed some improvement.

A native of Sweden, Mr. Peterson came to America when he was about 20 and lived for a year or two in Jamestown, N. Y., before coming to Tittusville. For a number of years he was coachman for the late Col. John J. Carter and later was employed for many years at the local plant of the American Radiator Co. About twenty years ago he met with an accident at the plant which resulted in amputation of his left arm at the shoulder.

He recovered from the injury and after retirement busied himself with his garden and the upkeep of his home on West Spruce street. He was a life-long member of the Lutheran church and had a large circle of friends throughout the community.

Mrs. Peterson leaves a wife, who was Jennie Turner of Warren, and the following children: Glenn Peterson of Warren, Elmer A. Peterson of Tittusville, Mrs. Norman Andrews of Chicago and A. B. Peterson of Route 3, Tittusville.

Friends may call at the E. A. Peterson funeral home, where services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. Rev. George A. Kroon will officiate and interment will be in the family plot at Woodlawn.

Predict Mine Stoppage Will End March 28

"I can only say x x x that the two-week period of mourning called by President Lewis as a memorial to our union's killed and injured in 1948 will conclude March 28."

Lewis, himself, didn't have any comment as the work stoppage went into its third day. He calls it a memorial period but also points out it's the miners' protest against appointment of Dr. James Boyd as director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

The senate's interior committee already has approved the Boyd appointment. Now, it's up to the senate which is expected to act soon.

Shopkeepers serving the 463,000 idle miners reported the stores are beginning to feel the pinch of the work stoppage. So are the communities where furloughed railroad workers reside.

Coal-hauling railroads have laid off several thousand men and by the end of the week, through a progressive system of furloughs, some 67,000 will be idle.

Meanwhile, other coal-dependent industries worked as usual. They're using the backlog of coal accumulated during a comparatively mild winter.

The only hardships reported thus far from the work stoppage are in eastern Pennsylvania's hard coal fields.

WILKES-BARRE, March 16—(P)—

Directors of the Anthracite Operators' Association sent John L. Lewis today a telegram urging that he call off his two-week work stoppage order as far as it applies to the hard coal industry.

The operators stress that the shutdown order "seriously affects the health and welfare of the anthracite region, reaching into its homes, hospitals, schools and other institutions."

The decision to contact the United Mine Workers' chieftain came at a special meeting of the association's board of directors.

BUSINESS RECESSION

"LONELY HEART" PAIR IN NEW YORK JAIL

Minneapolis, N. Y., March 16—(P)—Returned here from Michigan, two alleged "lonely hearts" slayers were in jail under heavy guard today.

Nassau County District Attorney James N. Gehrig said he hopes to present their case before a grand jury next week.

The pair, balding Raymond M. Fernandez, 34, and his 200-pound girl friend, Mrs. Martha Beck, 29, were flown here yesterday from Grand Rapids.

They are accused in Nassau county of slaying Mrs. Janet Fay, 50-year old Albany, N. Y., widow, in Valley Stream. Her body was found buried in a basement in Ozone Park, Queens.

The two waived examination when arraigned yesterday in district court.

Market Quotations

New York, March 16—(P)—

The stock market showed signs of leveling off today after yesterday's comparatively broad decline. Losses showed a slight edge over gains but they were small and numerous issues advanced fractionally. ## Dickson Big Aid To Pirate Flag Chances

San Bernardino, Calif., March 16 — (AP) — The strangest deal of the winter might well prove to have been the one which gave the Pittsburgh Pirates their first National League flag in 22 years.

The deal, a straight cash transaction now believed to have involved at least $125,000, brought Murry Dickson, a trim little right-handed pitcher, to the Pirates from the St. Louis Cardinals.

The sale was strange, first, because it was made without the knowledge or consent of Eddie Dyer, Cardinal manager, for whom Dickson worked a whopping 252 innings in 42 games last season.

It also was strange because it is almost certain that another National League club, the New York Giants, offered more for Dickson than Pittsburgh paid. Mention of the deal always elicits an arched eyebrow.

"Somebody owed somebody a favor," is a typical comment from rival National League officials.

At any rate, Dickson is a Pirate now, and he is happy and so is his new manager, Billy Meyer. He will be strictly a starter for Meyer, instead of a workhorse, and he rounds out what could easily prove the best balanced staff in the senior league.

Ohio Team In Trout Streams Are Spotlight At Listed In Angler N. Y. Tourney

New York, March 16—(AP)—Bowling Green of Ohio, perhaps the hottest team at the moment in college basketball, will carry a 15-game winning streak into the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

The fighting Falcons, who haven't dropped a decision since Jan 11 when they bowed 62-61 to Kentucky, rule a four-point favorite over San Francisco.

The other semi-final, which opens the program at 8 p. m. matches Loyola of Chicago and Bradley University on a "take-your-choice" basis.

Bowling Green has become a solid favorite to take the championship after the surprising quarter-final expulsion of top-ranked Kentucky and defending champion St. Louis.

Loyola, 67-55 winner over Kentucky, has gained many supporters. Jack Karris, the Loyola center who shackled the Cats' big Alex Groza, is one of the tournament's individual standouts.

The period in which the cave man lived is most often called the Mousterian, taken from a cave in southern France, Le Moustier, where remains of the race were found.

Importance of Base-Stealing Underestimated, Says Milan

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

ORLANDO, Fla.—(NEA)—Clyde Milan is drilling the Senators in base-running.

Manager Joe Kuhel wishes the old American League base-stealing champion could teach the Nationals to swipe first base. Too many of them can't get there with any degree of frequency any other way.

Milan, the long-time Washington outfielder and ex-manager, swiped 33 bases in 1912 and 74 in '13 to show the way, when the immortal Tytus Raymond Cobb, Eddie Collins and Tris Speaker were at their best. He averaged 45 throughout a 12-year stretch. Chief Bender, the Athletics' famous pitcher, called him "Deerfoot."

"Base-stealing is still an integral part of baseball," says Milan, "and it's a pity to see it so grossly neglected."

"Despite the long-ball hitting so popular today, the superlative base-runner with judgment can still win close games."

"When in 1938 I returned to the Washington club as a coach after managing in the Southern Association for eight years, I was amazed at the American Leaguers' ineptitude on the bases."

"Too many today are inefficient in sliding."

"The bulk of those who slide properly can fall away to one side only, and are afraid to try the other. They can't hit the dirt without slowing up, and then jump directly into the tag. You don't gain time by sliding. It's the only way you can stop suddenly."

"When I marked off for the Washington players the lead I used to take, they wouldn't believe me. It averaged 10 feet or more, depending on the pitcher, but I didn't put the mark out that far. I was afraid, fearful that they would get too far off base. But when they expressed doubt, I told them to call over Joe Judge, the old first baseman, and ask him. Joe made a mark out a step and a half farther than mine, and assured them that was where I started."

"An average lead now is no more than six feet. The aspiring base-stealer usually is thrown out by no more than two, so you can readily understand the importance of the lead."

"And any sucker can see that the more men a club puts in scoring position the more it will score. That is especially true of a club lacking a real thumper, such as this Washington team."

Clyde Milan is an illustrious member of the rapidly-vanishing tribe of old-time base thieves.

A new crop would add excitement to the game.

EVEN though you hear them often, aren't these rather dubious compliments:
"We never heard her speak an unkind word about anyone." Maybe that means she's afraid to speak her mind.

"She sacrificed everything for her children and they don't show her any consideration at all." All that means is that as a mother she's a complete failure.

"Her house is so clean you could eat off the floor." What's so good about that, if they've got a dining room table?

"She gave him the best years of her life." Well, she had to do something with them.

"She'd make some man an awfully good wife." How come no man ever figured that out?

EXCITING, TOO
"SHE'S as comfortable as an old shoe." And the woman that description fits is usually just about as exciting as an old shoe, too.

"She looks like her daughter's sister." Then she ought to be spending more on her daughter's looks and less on her own.

"She means well." What good does that do anybody?

"She hasn't changed a bit." Shouldn't the years improve us? The person who hasn't changed a bit has only been marking time.

"She certainly knows how to manage her husband." Another way of saying a man is henpecked.

Letters to the Editor

Warren, Penna.
March 14, 1949.

The Editor
Warren Times Mirror
Warren, Penna.
Dear Editor:

I have read several letters recently, with mounting chagrin, protesting the proposed Chapman's bill. These letters strike me as playing upon the emotions rather than to the intelligence of the hundreds of people who read them. I am not saying that those who read and agreed with these letters are not intelligent. I am merely suggesting that they use their intelligence to find out the facts for themselves, rather than let their emotions rise above their intelligence. In my opinion, it would be impossible for anyone to be aware of the full and accurate facts regarding vivisection and still be an anti-vivisectionist, unless he loves animals more than humanity.

Those who oppose vivisection assert that animals used are anesthetized only five per cent of the time, but they do not add that the reason for this is that only five per cent of the experiments performed require anesthesia: the others being no more painful than an injection of a needle.

One letter stated that "rats, mice, monkeys, rabbits, and guinea pigs are used for finding cures for our diseases; our pets, the dogs, become necessary for scientists to use dogs or cats after (and never unnecessarily) they have perfected, to the best of their ability, the test on lower animals. It stands to reason that these animals would be anesthetized just as humans would so that the results would resemble human reaction just as closely as possible. And certainly everyone can realize that it would be virtually impossible to operate on any animal which was not relaxed!

Several letters protest the bill because they say they love their pets. It seems clear to me that Dr. Chapman is not in favor of going into homes to confiscate pets for the cause. Dr. Chapman would be the last senator to propose such a thing, I'm certain. The bill only would permit animals in city pounds (well-cared for pets seldom stay in pounds) to be used for laboratory research instead of being killed as they now are. I cannot understand how any intelligent citizen can possibly say that this bill would mean our pets would be stolen and sold in greater numbers when it would, in fact, assure our scientists of the necessary number, thus removing any incentive pet thieves might have for committing their cruel crimes.

And do any of the anti-vivisectionists ever point out that through vivisection many dogs have actually been saved? Would they prefer to have the cause and cure for rabies, distemper, and black tongue still a mystery; for these were found and perfected through the very thing they are fighting?

Many writers of these letters must have loved ones, adults, if not children, too. I wonder if these persons would still begrudge the tortuous death of tetanus because they had stepped on a rusty nail, or watched them struggling for breath due to a clogged diphtheria throat? And certainly none of them have ever had any contact with diabetes which would most certainly be an ever-losing battle without insulin! These are only a few examples of the results of vivisection.

I would like to close with a comment of a certain Dr. Carlson: "If a man is not worth more than a dog, then our efforts to improve man are in error. We had better start raising more dogs and destroying more men, women and children, so that the canine species may inherit the earth."

Very truly yours,
M. R. S.

Scout Troop No. 5
Sponsored By Elks

The Warren Lodge of Elks, as one of its many civic activities, sponsors Boy Scout Troop No. 5 of Warren, which meets at the home of W. L. Wehner on Quaker Road and serves boys in the upper Conewango avenue section.

The Troop Committee includes W. L. Wehner, chairman, R. E. Forsgren, J. R. Hanson, R. B. Bloom, E. W. Koebly, M. L. Rohlin, F. R. Erickson, L. J. Collins, S. H. Adams, and Melvin T. Smith. The committee is made up of the fathers of the boys and men interested in the welfare of their community.

The Troop Committee was very fortunate to secure as its Scoutmaster Don Lauffer who has for a number of years served in many Scouting capacities in the Warren County Council. Mr. Lauffer has served as Scoutmaster, Neighborhood Commissioner, Troop Committeeman and has received the Scouters Training Award. The Troop started with eight members and has taken in two new members in the short time that it has been active.

The new troop was installed at a dinner meeting of the parents, leaders, friends and Scouts on February 12.
